Dear Sirs

Re: REACH Regulations

With regard to the application of REACH Regulations to the products supplied to you, we can confirm our understanding and response to the requirements as a downstream user below.

1. Guy-Raymond do not manufacture substances as described within these regulations. We are therefore not obligated as a producer under REACH.
2. We are classified as downstream users of compounds and mixtures that do not require registration.
3. We can confirm that we are in consultation with the suppliers to ensure that substances used in the production of the compounds and raw materials are appropriately registered such that the applications and uses of the substances, relevant to the manufacture of our products are approved under the regulations.

Yours sincerely
